

(Youngstown, OH) On Tuesday, February 16, U.S. Congressman Tim Ryan (OH-17) will join Kevin O'Brien of Revere Data in announcing the firm's new research office in Youngstown. Revere will be located in the Semple Building on West Federal Street as part of the Youngstown Tech Block, anchored by the Youngstown Business Incubator. Between 15 and 20 well-paying professional positions will be filled within nine months, with a target of 40 new hires made in the next 18 months.

"Revere is exactly the type of company that we're seeking to bring back to the District," said Congressman Ryan.

"This innovative, California-based research firm has strong ties to Youngstown and has chosen to locate its new facility here based on the support of the Youngstown Business Incubator and Youngstown State University, as well as the great quality of life offered by our Valley. This project is a huge win for Youngstown."
